Just outside the heart of Tokyo

Blessed with an abundance of natural scenery, extraordinary views, and far-stretching roadways, the Awa Region, located only an hour outside of downtown Tokyo and the Olympic Village, is an unmatched training ground for cyclists.

Accessibility

Medical Facilities

Top-Quality Medical Support

With access to leading medical institutions and excellent sports medicine facilities, rehabilitation and treatment for any injury is quick and easy.

Popular Cycling Retreat

The area plays host to many cyclists, including the Japanese Cyclist Team who have consecutively used the area as a training ground since the Los Angeles Olympics and who still take advantage of the location as they aim for the Olympic Gold Medal.

Scenery

Scenic Beauty, Luxurious Hot Springs, and Rich History

Natural Wonder

The Awa Region is an area full of beauty and relaxation, with coastlines extending from the calm waters of Tokyo Bay to the vast expanse of the Pacific Ocean, rolling hillsides covered in striking shades of green, and a variety of hot-spring hotels mixed together with local history.

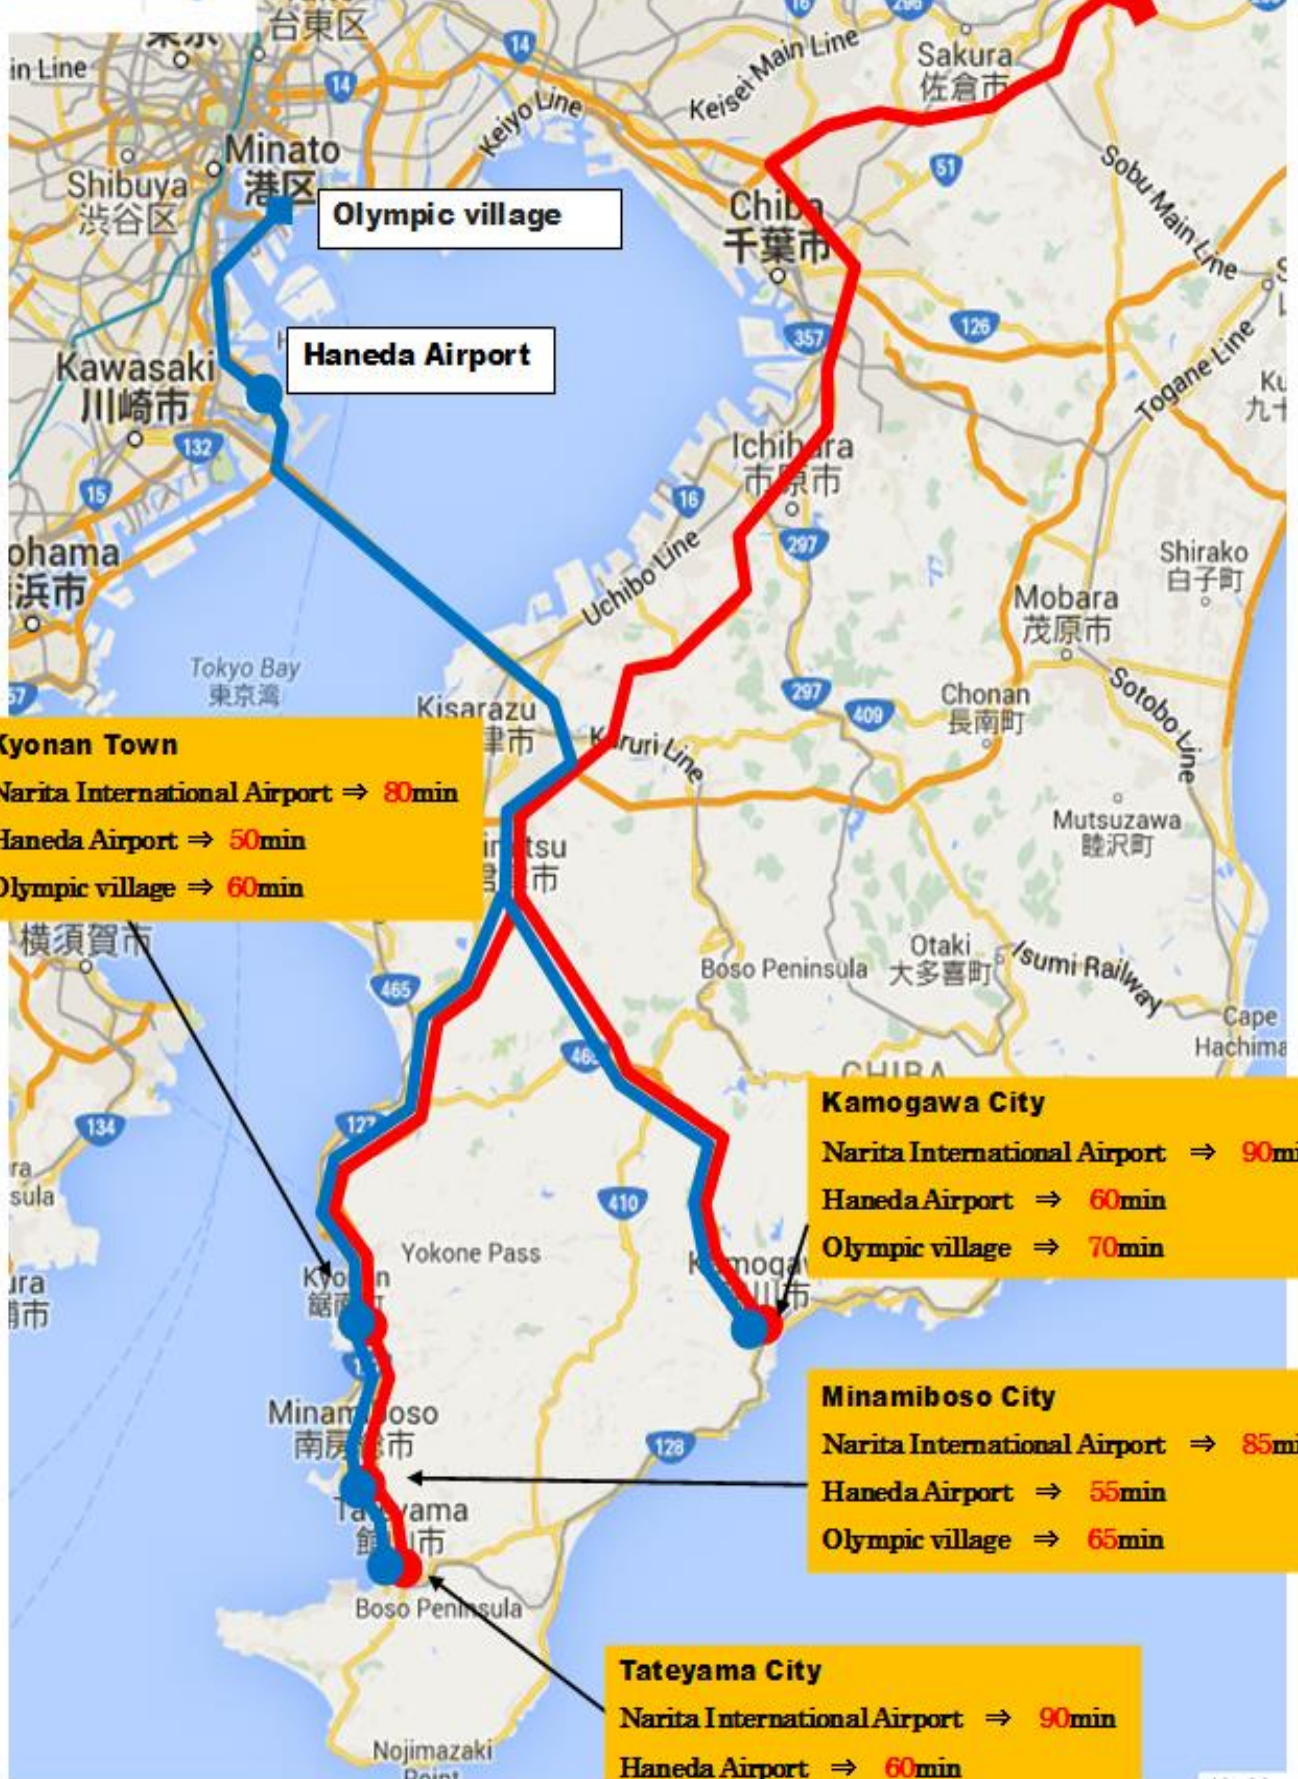

Warm Climate

Thanks to the oceanic climate of the area, temperatures are mild year-round.
